

What with our helpe, what with the absent King,
 What with the iniuries of wanton time,
 The seeming sufferances that you had borne,
 And the contrarious windes that helde the King
 So long in the vnluckie Iris Warres,
 That all in England did repute him dead;
 And from his swarme of faire aduantages,
 You tooke occasion to be quickly wooed,
 To gripe the generall sway into your hand,
 Forgot your oath to vs at Doncaster;
 And being fed by vs, you vs'd vs so,
 As that vngentle gull the Cuckowes bird,
 Vserh the Sparrow, did oppresse our nest,
 Grew by our feeding, to so great a bulke,
 That euen our loue durst not come neare your sight
 For feare of swallowing: but with nimble wing
 We were inforst for safety sake, to flie
 Out of your sight, and raise this present head,
 Whereby we stand opposed by such meanes
 As you your selfe haue forg'd against your selfe,
 By vnkind vsage, dangerous countenance,
 And violation of all faith and troth
 Swore to vs in your younger enterprise.

King. These things indeede, you haue articulate,
 Proclaymed at Market crosses, read in Churches,
 To face the garment of Rebellion,
 With some fine colour that may please the eye
 Of fickle changelings, and poore discontents,
 Which gape, and rub the Elbow at the newes
 Of hurly burly innouocation:
 And neuer yet did insurrection want
 Such water colours, to impaint his cause;
 Nor muddy Beggars, staruing for a time,
 Of pel-mell haucke and confusion.

Prin. In both your Armes, there is many a soule
 Shall pay full dearely for this encounter.
 If once they ioine in tryall, tell your Nephew,
 The Prince of Wales doth ioine with all the world

In praise of Henry Percy: by my
 This present enterprise set of his
 I doe not thinke a brauer Gentle
 More actiue, more valiant, or m
 More daring, or more bould, is
 To grace this latter age with nob
 For my part, I may speake it to
 I haue a trewant been to Chiuah
 And so I heare he doth account
 Yet this before my Fathers Mai
 I am content that he shall take r
 Of his great name and estimatio
 And will to saue the blond on ei
 Try fortune with him in a sing

King. And, Prince of Wales, li
 Albert, considerations infinite
 Doe make against it: No good
 Weeloue our people well; euen
 That are misled vpon your Co
 And will they take the offer of
 Both hee, and they, and you yea
 Shall bee my griend againe, and
 So tell your Coosen, and bring r
 What he will doe. But if he will Rebuke and dread correction w
 And they shall doe their office. S
 We will not now bee troubled w
 We offer faire, take it aduisedly.

Prin. It will not be accepted,
 The Dowglas and the Hotspur be
 Are confident against the world

King. Hence therefore, euery
 For on their answer will we set
 And God befriend vs, as our ca

Fal. Hal, if thou see me down
 And bestride me so, tis a point o

Prin. Nothing but a Colossus
 Say thy prayers, and farewell.